REMARKABLE SEQUEL TO ABDUCTION

STRANGE STORY TOLD BY THE MAN NOW BEHIND BARS

DECLARES ACCUSERS WENT WITH HIM ON A LARK

Prisoner Asserts That the Old Woman Asked Him for Money, and Then Drank in a Saloon

Henry Chase, the man who is charged with abducting August Walter, the 3-year-old son of Steward Walter of the Hospital Corps at the Presidio in the City Prison. He tells a story which is a contradiction of every feature of the tale of the grandmother, Mrs. Witholt, which was detailed in these columns yesterday.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Witholt told the Chief of Police yesterday that while she was gathering shells at Sixteenth and Wood streets with her little grandchild, August Walter, the boy, was abducted by a man who took him into a buggy and drove away. She followed the buggy only to find that the boy was taken into a house in Alameda, which she entered and from which she finally escaped with the child, after having been threatened with a knife and an attempt had been made to assault her.

THE ARREST. The alleged assailant was arrested this morning at 2 o'clock by Officers Chase and Andrews in a little house near the estuary in Alameda. The place was identified by the woman yesterday evening in the presence of Detectives Holland and Quigley.

Chase is a man 68 years of age. He is low of stature, has pointed features and claims to be a landscape gardener.

TURNS HIS STORY. "I did not kidnap the child," said he to a Tribune reporter today. "I had a buggy on Tuesday and I can prove it. I came to Oakland in the morning. I went to a place near a park in East Oakland to look for work. Later I went to a religious meeting near the narrow gauge track. About noon I went to two houses near the Plaza on Twelfth street in East Oakland and talked about gardening.

THE MEETING. "Then I walked along East Fourteenth street and when I came near the tannery I met this woman and child. She asked me for a few dimes. I told her that she did not look as if she needed any. She walked along with me. We went to a saloon at the corner of Railroad avenue and Park street where she and I drank a glass of beer, while standing at the counter. We then got on an Alameda car and rode to a point a short distance this side of the tidal canal bridge.

IN THE SALOON. "We went into the Tidal Wave saloon and there had another glass of beer. I gave the woman 25 cents. We walked across the tidal canal bridge and went to my house. She entered with me. There was some whisky there and she took a drink of it. She then threw her arms around me and hugged me.

GAVE HER MONEY. "I gave her 25 cents more and gave the boy a nickel. She then went away. I did not threaten her." "Chase says he is a native of Sandy Hook. His wife died ten years ago in Detroit. He formerly resided at Second and Broadway, in this city, and four years ago registered in Alameda. He explained his late return home last night by stating that he had played cards in Chinatown's saloon at the corner of First and Webster streets until time to take the last broad gauge car for Alameda. He says that he did not know that he had been accused of any wrong-doing until he was arrested. Detectives Holland and Quigley located the man.

Mrs. Witholt this morning identified Chase as the man who had assaulted her and kidnapped her grandchild. She denies his story. The prisoner has been charged with child stealing.

STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED.

Cleveland Trouble in a Fair Way to Be Adjusted.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 22.—A strong force of police was sent this morning to the West and South Sides, where the street railway company will attempt to run on the Homedon avenue and Pearl street lines. The tracks on several lines were again found piled high with obstructions when cars began running this morning. There has been no disorder. An adjourned meeting of the strikers and company's representatives will be held at 11 o'clock to further consider terms of settlement. All members are reticent, but one of the strike leaders expressed his personal opinion that unless all the men are reinstated or at least placed on the pay roll, a settlement would be as far off as ever. Committees representing both sides in the street railway strike have unanimously agreed upon terms of settlement. The conditions are kept secret, and will be submitted to a meeting of the men this evening for ratification by the strike committee.

PANA TROOPS ORDERED HOME.

Citizens Pleased and Mine Owners Panic Stricken.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. PANA, Ill., June 22.—Major Cabanis, in command of Companies D and H, Fifth Illinois Infantry, has received orders from Governor Tanner to send his men home Monday morning and to notify all citizens that upon the presentation of receipts the arms taken from them by the military will be returned to them. The recall of the troops was received by the majority of citizens with pleasure, and the general opinion is that there will be no further conflict between the opposing factions. Many of the imported negroes have already left, and the remainder will leave shortly. The operators, however, claim they are engaging 200 negroes to take the places of those who have left, and the military officers believe they will follow the removal of the troops.

LIVES LOST ON A BURNING TUG.

Burns to Water's Edge and Two Men Are Missing.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, June 22.—The tug N. T. Brown, Captain Murray, of the Montreal Transportation Company of Montreal, bound from Kingston, Ont., to Montreal with five barges in tow, caught fire this morning near Warner's Island. The barges were released, and tied up at this point. The tug was burned to the water's edge. She carried a crew of nine men. Two are missing. They are J. O'Neill of Kingston, deckhand, supposed to be drowned; Bert Hastings, the fireman. Several of the crew were badly burned. Loss $25,000.

YOUNG GIRL DISAPPEARS.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., June 22.—The community is excited over the disappearance of Helen Barnes, the 11-year-old daughter of Alfred M. Barnes, a wealthy wire manufacturer of this town. She was last seen leaving her father's office about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Barnes fears that she has been kidnapped. The girl went to her father's office on her bicycle, remained there a short time and then went away, leaving her wheel there. Since that time no one remembers having seen her.

A LEFT-HANDED MARRIAGE

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. LONDON, June 22.—The wedding of Princess Marie of Mecklenburg-Strelitz to Count Charles de Jagor was solemnized quietly at the Catholic chapel of St. Elizabeth, Richmond, today. The bride's parents, the Duke of Cambridge and Prince and Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein were among those present. The marriage has aroused comment because it is "morganatic."

DEWEY NOW AT CEYLON.

His Health Fairly Good and He Will Stay a Week.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. COLOMBO, Ceylon, June 22.—The United States cruiser Olympia, with Admiral Dewey on board, arrived here at 6 o'clock A. M., from Singapore, June 15th, saluted the forts ashore and was saluted by the latter in return. An aide-de-camp representing the Governor of Ceylon, Hon. Sir Joseph Westridgeway, boarded the Olympia at 7 o'clock this morning in order to welcome Admiral Dewey and Colonel Savage, commanding the troops, made a visit at 10 o'clock. The visits were returned at 11 o'clock. They were met at the jetty by a guard of honor, and amidst cheering drove in the Governor's carriage to breakfast with Colonel Savage. The Admiral afterward booked rooms at the Galleface Hotel, and returned on board the Olympia at 1 o'clock. There he received a delegation representing the Planters' Association and the Chamber of Commerce, and was presented with a memento of his visit. The Admiral will remain in Ceylon about a week. He says he had a good voyage from Singapore and that his health is fairly good. 5:30 P. M.—The presentation of the case to Admiral Dewey was made on board of the Olympia instead of in the Council chamber, because his doctor had forbidden him to participate in any function. The delegates also presented a thousand pounds of tea to the crew of the Olympia. The Admiral, replying to the address of welcome, said he wished he could repay in adequate terms, reciprocating the sentiments expressed. But, he added, he spoke from his heart when he said he deeply appreciated the welcome.

ELKS HOLD A PRIZE DRILL.

Election of Officers Takes Place This Afternoon.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 22.—The principal events of the Elks' reunion today were the prize drill at the Coliseum and the meeting of the Grand Lodge. The band contests also attracted considerable attention. There are six bands entered in the contest for the three prizes of $5,000, $3,000 and $1,000. It is expected that the election of officers for the ensuing year will take place late this afternoon. Judge B. M. Allen of Birmingham, Ala., will succeed Exalted Ruler John Calvin of Cincinnati, who has declined a re-election. He is the only candidate for that position. The only contest for the position of grand secretary, which has been held by George A. Reynolds of Saginaw, Mich., for the past five years. Opposed to the present incumbent is Bert Lyon of St. Louis.

BOXER SWOONS IN THE RING.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. CHICAGO, June 22.—"Dutch" Neal, the Dutch pugilist, swooned in the ring last night during a contest with Harry Popers, and at 11 o'clock today had not regained consciousness. He is apparently suffering from a hemorrhage of the brain. "Peppers" is under arrest. He denies having injured Neal, and police officers who were present say they do not believe Neal's condition is the result of any blow struck by Peppers.

NEW CABINET FOR FRANCE.

Success Crowns Rousseau's Efforts and the Crisis Is Tided Over.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. PARIS, June 22.—Senator Waldeck-Rousseau was recalled to the Elysee palace this morning, where President Loubet requested that he form a Cabinet immediately. Later it was announced that Senator Waldeck-Rousseau had reported successful progress and that he hoped to be able to complete a Cabinet at 7 o'clock this evening. He intends to ignore Mm. Guillaum, Krantz and Poincare, in view of their attitude during the previous negotiations. ROUSSEAU IS SUCCESSFUL. Still later this afternoon the announcement was made that Senator Waldeck-Rousseau had completed the formation of the Cabinet. The Senator, accompanied by the new Cabinet Ministers, proceeded to the Elysee palace at 6:30 P. M. to present his colleagues to President Loubet. The new Cabinet is organized as follows: MAKE-UP OF THE NEW CABINET. Senator Waldeck-Rousseau, President of the Council of Ministers and Minister of the Interior. M. Delcasse, Minister of Foreign Affairs. General Marquis de Gabelli, Minister of War. M. De Lanessan, Minister of Marine. M. Monis, Minister of Justice. M. Caillaux, Minister of Finance. M. Millerand, Minister of Commerce. M. Leygues, Minister of Public Instruction. M. De Crais, Minister of Colonies. M. Jean Dupuy, Minister of Agriculture. M. Pierre Daudin, Minister of Public Works.

POVERTY OF THE PLACERS.

An Expert's Opinion of San Roque Gold Fields.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. SAN DIEGO, June 22.—Seventy-five returning miners came up from the San Roque placers on the steamer St. Denis, arriving here today. All are united in saying that the placers are poor, the average yield being not over $1.50 per day to the man. Captain H. L. Swain, the official representative of the Chamber of Commerce and an experienced mining man who visited the mines under instructions to send the exact facts regarding the placers, sends the Chamber of Commerce a letter in which he says: "The placers cover ten miles square, but in this space the actual workings are very limited, being confined to the river beds (dry) and their sources in the range of mountains to the north-east. Daily the prospectors are of course finding new fields, but their extent and richness seems to be very limited, and while there is without doubt considerable gold in the country, it is so fine and so largely distributed that at any one spot it is not found in paying quantities, and this will never be a rich placer country."

KHALIFA AGAIN MEETS DEFEAT.

His Power Crushed and He Will Soon Be a Prisoner.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. CAIRO, Egypt, June 22.—It was announced that the Khalifa had been defeated with heavy loss by the natives friendly to the British. It is added that he has fled to the woods with a few followers and that his capture is imminent. Was Not Guilty. D. Godfrey was acquitted in Justice Quinn's court yesterday on a charge of cruelty to animals. He was charged with starving his chickens. Deputy District Attorney Harris appeared for the State and Tom Bradley for the defendant.

Blanche had no other children. Her mother said that those will come later.

BLANCHE HAD ONE SISTER.

"My sister and I were brought up by my mother. Blanche was engaged to a young man named Carlos or a young man of another name. It is not true that a young man who was engaged to her abandoned her because he thought she was too old. My daughters have had young gentlemen and sometimes they have gone off with them like other young women. But no young man has seriously paid his addresses to them. No young man has proposed marriage to them for any purpose. The young man you say is a postal clerk on the train between San Francisco and San Jose. Well, that man was not engaged to Blanche. He stopped at our house. He was here about two or three days. He was not engaged to Blanche. My daughter did not treat him like a lover. I am sorry his name was brought out. It will cause him annoyance. He used to take lessons on the violin."

from "Mr. Barker" (transferred from "Mr. Barker"). When he called her recently he took a lesson on the violin from his daughter. He was an honorable young man. If he intended to pay serious attention to my daughter, without speaking to me about it, I would not consider it honorable. But he did not do a thing of the kind.

THE GIRL ACTS ALONE.

"I know that I have been accused 'putting up' my girl to marry Mr. Barker, but there is not a word of truth in it as I have already told you. They s

This, perhaps, because they wanted to finish something to talk about after the ceremony. He took out the paper. "I had intended that Mr. Henderson would take out the license," he said. "He has business dealings with Mr. Boardman. Mr. Boardman had to talk with him and it was decided that I should take out the license. My daughter was not of age and I had to give my consent. That is how it went down. Planchie will not be of age until October."

MARRIED WITHOUT COMPUNCTIONS

"Dr. Brown did not have any hesitation in marrying Mr. Boardman and his daughter. Why marry her against her wishes? It was no marriage. My daughter and Mr. Boardman loved one another. Dr. Brown had not married them, so no other person would. Dr. Brown was first choice, if I could not get him I was lost. Dr. Brown, Dr. Brown that's all I can think of. I must tell you to him. My daughter begged me to come to the house to perform the ceremony. He said nothing about the difference in the ages.

MATRIMONIAL ABROAD.
 "Mr. and Mrs. Boardman may live in love for at least. His name is on Eliza's sweet card. We are not. The home is for a renovated. They may live in love. There is the foundation of a romance here. What is it? No, I will not because I am in the family now."
NO WEDDING TONIGHT.
 "They are not going on wedding to Mr. Boardman. It is a matter of business. He is not going to take her to his affairs. He took her to Yorginette once and lost most of it. His wife is now with him. He wants her to be with him always. He has no more control over her. She is now Mr. Boardman's wife and she is now his wife."
 "We know through some papers that a short time before Mr. Boardman's second wife's death, she decided to him."

MARITAL ABODE.

"Mr. and Mrs. Boardman may live here for a time at least. Her name is on Elphinstone street near Westgate. The home is renovated. They may live there. There is the foundation of a romance. What? What? No, I will not because I am in the family now."

NO WEDDING TO BE.

"They are not going on a wedding to-day. Boardman is a man of business. He has to tend to his affairs. He took a trip to Yagoraine once and lost money. His wife is now with him. She wants her to be with him always. I have no more to say about them. She is Mr. Boardman's wife and she goes where she wishes."

"Yes, we know through some party that a short time before Mr. Boardman's second wife's death, she decided to hinder her interest in their property. There is nothing to it. It was right to let that as was wanted to. It was just as well that she did that. There has been no trouble over the property since."

PICNIC EXCURSION YESTERDAY OF THE RAILWAY CONDUCTORS

The first annual excursion and picnic of El Capitlan Division, No. 115, Order of Railway Conductors, took place yesterday. The rovers were held at beautiful Sunset Park in the Santa Cruz mountains. The excursion was led by J. J. Dillan, an officer of the North Pacific Coast Railroad, was chairman of the committee, and the other members were T. B. Higgins of San Francisco, secretary of El Capitlan Division, and J. J. Dillan, general yard-grover of Alameda. W. F. Hunter of Murray of San Rafael and A. R. Robertson

The readers of the Oakland Tribune who did not attend yesterday's big picnic excursion missed it hugely, and regretted a regular thing another day of depression of spirits. It was a medicinal tonic for the jaded system which no doctor can confine in pill or potion. In the most elating language at my command I will seek to depict my impressions.

The excursion was conducted by the Sausalito Band. J. C. Fielding of Alameda ("Pop") was conductor of the excursion train. The net receipts of the affair will go to the fundus of El Capitlan Division.

(When plienkers were absent), I surveyed the spectacle. Beer bottles of various sizes moved in the cool places of people's hands. There were casting pebbles at floating emptied bottles, and were awaking the echoes with their spoon

There were casting pebbles at floating emptied bottles, and were awaking the echoes with their spoon

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning there was a big bang at the diamonds mole. The swarms of the diamonds mole were driven by the Oakland train and the San Francisco ferry boat. Jake Baumgarten, ex-mayor of the Oakland newboys, and a young man Tommy Atkins of the Eighth Regiment and a veteran of the Camp Barrett episode, was a bustling figure in the swarms, and he succeeded in getting the swarms to disperse, permitting him to become one of the six or eight hundred merry makers. I mention this fact because Jake was one of the highlights of the day's proceedings, as you will note.

between San Luis and Santa Cruz mountains, nearly seventy miles away. On board were many men and women increased. The belief of a busy life, three beauties. Her name, I learned, was Miss Jesta Shoemaker, aged 35, of San Luis, daughter of the superintendent of the R. R. This slender babe would be counted as a part in youth and maturity. Her rivals in looks were her cousins, Miss Stella Shoemaker, aged 35, of Frustrato, and the young, Miss Ivy, of San Francisco. Just a waltzing was to begin, a sulter asked middle-aged German matron: "yes, when anyone steps on a dance?"

then vivid across the Granddome bay. Soon the various colored aisles were free by Jake Baumgardner, who said: "I'm going to take a basket of 'goobers,' were the train boys on duty cap, and amused the passengers with his robust appeal: "Double-fointed Deputies!"

On the car a party German raised a laugh. No liquor was to be sold on the grounds, but the prohibition did not preclude the sale of beer. The German, a jocose soul, ejaculated in proper season, when the sloughs were passing, "dunkel beer." The German was inhibited as a novelty: "We must get ready for train robbers. Wife hand me my pistol. His frau produced a flask of bourbon from her stomach. The German, a pot," made the rounds of the men of the train.

They. All the same, he photographed his wife. Said she to me: "Next time I come to the Granddome I'll take a picnic I'm going to golf stockings a pair. A woman's ordinary risk is, I think, to get a cold. I'll take a pair of up-to-date at a Sunset Park. I'll take a pair of sharp 5. Soon I heard the familiar voice of Jake Baumgardner, who last time I gazed at him, he was paid a sharp 5. "Evering papers."

Not during my career have I so thoroughly enjoyed myself. I saw the sunset in the Granddome Park in the Santa Cruz mountains.

vicinity, friends of the gentleman, and was returned to him by the hotel, it back to his spouse, saying "My wife always takes care of the bottle when we leave."

Less than twenty of the hoodlum-chippy element were on board and they were decorous. Two pairs of vis-a-vises carried some alienists on whom a couple of them attempted a song. The male voice was good, but the female organ was weak. The song was "I am married, when twitted by her lady maid, to this peculiar cause: 'My fellow puffen cigarette smokes her voice, I often ask to come and hear killing my voice.'"

AT THE PARK.

The train paused at Newark and San Jose for more business and ere long

But beyond Los Gatos and Emma, the point was reached where the tracks branched off to the region known as Sunset Park. Through a short trail, amidst a winding creek, chaparral, lofty trees, brilliant sunshine and balmy air, the hounds began to sniff the ground. Around short curves and up, up the heavy grade the monster tumbled, until at last the elysian apogee was reached. There, barked his husky bells, is no dead report, and is as yet uninstaled by the casual circulation of rude invaders. The park is but a few years old, and the public four years ago, but is still fragrant in its glens and charming in its grades; is still verdant in its parks and wooded precincts; its paths are mountain trails, and its redwoods, the forest of the past.
